INDEX

THE HISTORICAL OUTLOOK, VOLUME IX

Continuing The History Teacher's Magazine

JANUARY-DECEMBER, 1918

Adams, E. D., American Civil War from British Viewpoint, 257.
Adams, G. B., English Background of American Institutions, 423-425.
Adams, Henry, Note on, 267.
Alabama History Teachers, 206, 267.
Alsace-Lorraine, Documents Relating to, 327; Under German Rule, 325.
American Catholics and the War, by P. Guilday, 431.
American Historical Association, proceedings of, 93; report to, on School Course in History, 74-83.
America's Debt to England, by Lucius B. Swift, 6-9.
Anderson, F. M., Hazen's Alsace-Lorraine Under German Rule, 325.
Andrews, A. I., Use and Abuse of Current Events in History Classes, 144.
Annexationist Germany, by B. E. Schmitt, 252-254.
Association of History Teachers of Middle States and Maryland, 342, 509.
Autocracy, Prussian, Bismarck on, 7; Theory of Germany, 417-419.

Barker, E., Celebrating Memorial Day, 134-137.
Barnard, J. L., Program of Civics Teaching for War Times and After, 492-500.
Bases of Permanent Peace, by C. C. Eckhardt, 124-128.
Bassett, J. S., How Southerners Supported the War for Secession, 373-375.
Becker, C., Monroe Doctrine and the War, 87.
Beginnings in Political Education, by E. Dawson, 439-441.
Benjamin, G. G., Conventionality in History, 190-192.
Bibliographies—Reading References to Topical Outline of War, 112-114; Selected Critical Bibliography of Publications in English Relating to World War, 155-183; of Preliminaries of World Conflict, 293; of England at War, 317; of Latin American History, 336; of American Party History and Government, 387; of Civics for War and After, 498-500; of Methods of Teaching History, 19.
Blegen, T. C., Two Standards of National Morality, 457-466.
Boak, A. E. R., How Great Britain Entered the Great War, 259.
Bogart, E. L., Effect of the War on Supply of Labor and Capital, 425-427.

Book Reviews, arranged alphabetically under authors' names.

Abbott, G., Immigrant and Community, 511.
Adkins, F. J., Historical Backgrounds of the Great War, 453.

Book Reviews—Continued.

Alexander, P. T., ed., Earliest Voyages Around the World, 1519-1617, 347.
Bang, J. P., Hurrah and Hallelujah, 152.
Bard, H. E., South America: Study Suggestions, 26.
Beazley, C. R., Notebook of Medieval History, 348.
Beer, G. L., English Speaking Peoples, 26.
Bemis, K. I., Holtze, M. E., and Smith, H. L., Patriotic Reader, 274.
Bennion, M., Citizenship: Introduction to Social Ethics, 276.
Botsford, G. W. and J. B., Brief History of the World, 453.
Brown, P. M., International Realities, 152.
Bryan, George S., Sam Houston, 346.
Cestre, C., France, England and European Democracy, 392.
Channing, E., History of United States. Vol. IV, Federalists and Republicans, 1789-1815, 275.
Chapman, S. J., Outlines of Political Economy, 512.
Cheradame, A., United States and Pangermania, 513.
Clay, Oliver, Heroes of American Revolution, 97.
Collins, E. D., History of Vermont, 512.
Coolidge, L. A., Ulysses S. Grant, 454.
Dean, A. D., Our Schools in War Time—and After, 453.
Dickson, H., Unpopular History of the United States, by Uncle Sam Himself, 152.
Dixon, W. MacNeile, British Navy at War, 212.
Fletcher, C. B., The New Pacific, 347.
Foerster, N. W., and Pierson, W. W., Jr., eds., American Ideals, 27.
Ford, W. C., ed., Writings of John Quincy Adams, Vol. VII, 1820-1823; 150.
Gambrill, J. M., Leading Events of Maryland History, 97.
Gauss, C., ed., Democracy To-day, an American Interpretation, 393.
Gibbons, H. A., Reconstruction of Poland and Near East, 274.
Gleason, Arthur, Our Part in the Great War, 97.
Gordy, W. F., Abraham Lincoln, 273.
Graham, S., Russia in 1916, 197.
Haring, C. H., Trade and Navigation between Spain and Indies in Time of Hapsburgs, 395.
Herrick, C. A., History of Commerce and Industry, 393.
Higginbottom, Jas., History through Illustrations, 348.
Holt, L. H., and Chilton, A. W., History of Europe from 1862-1914, 393.

Book Reviews—Continued.

Hughes, R. O., Community Civics, 346.
Jackson, F. J. Foakes, Social Life in England, 1750-1850, 26.
Jamison, E. M., and Others, Italy, Medieval and Modern, 212.
Jarvis, C. H., Teaching of History, 452.
Kellogg, C., Women of Belgium, Turning Tragedy to Triumph, 214.
Kendall, C. N., and Stryker, F. E., History in Elementary School, 452.
Libby, W., Introduction to History of Science, 274.
Liveing, E. G. D., Attack, 514.
Long, A. W., American Patriotic Prose, 274.
MacElroy, M. H., Work and Play in Colonial Days, 346.
Marriott, J. A. R., Eastern Question, Historical Study in European Diplomacy, 394.
Miner, W. H., American Indians North of Mexico, 26.
Mosessohn, M., Guide to American Citizenship, 346.
Muir, R., Expansion of Europe, Culmination of Modern History, 514.
Munro, W. H., Tales of an Old Seaport, 347.
Myers, W. S., ed., Mexican War Diary of George B. McClellan, 98.
Negro Education in United States, 212.
North Carolina Historical Commission, 511.
Oberholtzer, E. P., History of United States Since Civil War, Vol. I, 511.
Ogg, F. A., National Progress, 1907-1917, 513.
Osborn, W. F., America at War, 212.
Parkman, M. R., Heroes of To-day, 512.
Parkman, M. R., Heroines of Service, 512.
Pollak, G., House of Hohenzollern and Hapsburg Monarchy, 151.
Pollock, H. McL., Our Minnesota, 213.
Publications of Nebraska Historical Society, Vol. XVIII, 275.
Rhodes, J. F., History of Civil War, 213.
Russell, Bertrand, Political Ideals, 151.
Seybolt, R. F., Apprenticeship and Apprenticeship Education in Colonial New England and New York, 27.
Smith, W. R., Introduction to Educational Sociology, 273.
Stephens, K., The Greek Spirit, 395.
Tappan, E. M., Little Book of the Flag, 98.
Tarbell, I. M., Life of Abraham Lincoln, 513.
Teaching of Government, Report on, to American Political Science Association, 98.
Thompson, C. M., History of United States: Political, Industrial, Social, 454.

BOOK REVIEWS—Continued.

Tout, T. F., Medieval Town Planning, 452.
Ward, Sir A. W., Germany, 1815-1890, Vol. I, 1815-1852, 152.
Wallace, D. D., Government of England, 213.
Webster, Hutton, Early European History, 98.
Wild, Laura H., Evolution of Hebrew People and Their Influence on Civilization, 151.
Williams, L. F. R., Four Lectures on Handling of Historical Material, 348.
Williamson, J. A., Foundation and Growth of British Empire, 26.
Wolfson, A. M., Ancient Civilization, 394.

Botsford, G. W., Note on death of, 24.
Brown, L. F., How German Intrigue and Napoleonic Militarism Produced Franco-Prussian War, 195.
Buck, S. J., Historical Preparedness, 249-251.

Cannon, H. L., Restoration of English History to High School Curriculum, 312.
Capen, L. I., Still Another Editorial Man of Straw, 483.
Celebrating Memorial Day, E. Barker, 134-137.
Chadwick, S. P. R., Roman Trade Routes Along Pathway of Great War, 193.
Chamberlin, W. A., Germany's Grip on Public Opinion, 433-437.
Changing Fortunes of the Great War, by L. M. Larson, 375-377.
Chapman, C. E., Producing Class in Hispanic-American History, 84-86.
Chase, W. J., English History, 1815-1914, 140.
Citizenship, Study in, by E. B. Smith, 503-507.
Civil War, American, from British Viewpoint, by E. D. Adams, 257.
Civil War, Internal Problems During, by C. R. Fish, 199.
Cleveland, F. A., The War—Its Practical Lesson to Democracy, 239-244.
Cole, A. C., President Lincoln and His War Time Critics, 245-249.
Collateral Reading and Notebooks in History Classes: Reference Readings in High School, by P. V. B. Jones, 200; In Recent American History, by P. T. Smith, 202; Study of the War, History Notebook in, by E. A. Rice, 204; History Notebook, by C. M. Whitlow, 205.
Communications, 450, 508.
Conventionality in History, by G. G. Benjamin, 190-192.
Course of Study, Report on, to Nebraska History Teachers' Association, 24.
Cross, A. L., Documents Relating Mainly to Future of British Empire or Commonwealth of Nations, 401-411.

Davis, W. S., Roman Republic, 14.
Dawson, E., Beginnings in Political Education, 439-441.
Deeper Roots of Pan-Germanism, by J. W. Thompson, 360-367.
Democracy, Lessons of War to, by F. A. Cleveland, 239-244.
Development of Transportation in Connection with Problems of Western Expansion, by E. W. Osgood, 490-492.
Documents Relating Mainly to Future of British Empire or Commonwealth of Nations, by A. L. Cross, 401-411.
Documents Relating to France and Certain War Issues, by W. G. Leland, 327-333.
Dutcher, G. M., Selected Critical Bibliography of Publications in English Relating to World War, 155-183.
Duty of History Teacher in Forming Public Opinion During the War, by T. C. Smith, 379.

Eckhardt, C. C., Bases of Permanent Peace, 124-128.
Effect of the War on Supply of Labor and Capital, by E. L. Bogart, 425-427.
England at War, by C. Read, 313-317.
English Background of American Institutions, by G. B. Adams, 423-425.
English History, Study of, by R. L. Schuyler, 90.
English History, 1688-1815, by D. D. Wallace, 15.
English History, 1815-1914, by W. J. Chase, 140.
Epoch Making War in History, by D. C. Knowlton, 261.
European Geography and the War, by W. E. Lingelbach, 218.
Evans, M. S., International Mind in the Teaching of History, 129-130.
Evolution of Democracy in England, by C. Read, 428-431.

Ferguson, J. F., Food Administrators of Other Days, 255.
Fish, C. R., Internal Problems During the Civil War, 199.
Food Administrators of Other Days, by J. F. Ferguson, 255.
Franco-Prussian War, How German Intrigue and Napoleonic Militarism Produced, by L. F. Brown, 195.
French Government, by O. Guerlac, 357-360.
Further Evidence in Case Against Germany, by L. M. Larson, 420-423.

Gauss, C., Some War Curiosities and the Clandestine Press in Belgium, 101-112.
Geographical Aspects of the War, by S. B. Harding, 217.
Germany, Education in, 344; University Attendance in, 345.
Germany's Grip on Public Opinion, by W. A. Chamberlin, 433-437.
Gold, M. S., Use of Outline Method in Teaching of History, 381.
Government Policies Involving the Schools in War Time, 268.
Gray, W. D., The Great War and Roman History, 138.
Greene, E. V., Interaction of European and American Politics, 1823-1861, 142.
Guerlac, O., French Government, 357-360.
Guilday, P., American Catholics and the War, 431.

Hallock, C. M., Songs and History Teaching, 388.
Harding, S. B., Topical Outline of the Great War, 30-62; Some Geographical Aspects of the War, 217.
Hazen's Alsace-Lorraine Under German Rule, by F. M. Anderson, 325.
Hershey, A. S., Turning Point in Far Eastern Diplomacy, 91.
Herzberg, M. J., Victoria Cross Heroes, 484.
Hill, Howard C., War and the Teaching of History, 10-13.
Historian's Ten Commandments, 390.
Historical Field, Notes from, 24, 94, 148, 206, 267, 340, 390, 508.
Historical Preparedness, by S. J. Buck, 249-251.
Historitis and How to Cure It, by A. M. Schlesinger, 128.
Hoskins, H. L., Preliminaries of World Conflict, Syllabus of Course of Study, 277-293.
How Great Britain Entered the Great War, by A. E. Boak, 259.
How Southerners Supported the War for Secession, by J. S. Bassett, 373-375.
Hunt, Agnes, The War and Secondary Education of Girls in France, 131-134.

Impressions of Britain in War Time, by A. C. McLaughlin, 473-475.
Interaction of European and American Politics, 1823-1861, by E. V. Greene, 142.
International Mind in the Teaching of History, by M. S. Evans, 129-130.
Internationalism and Nationalism, 334.
Irish Question and England, by E. R. Turner, 196.
Italy and the Great War, by P. V. B. Jones, 319-325.

Johnston, W. and F. K., Medieval and Modern European History Wall Maps, 380.
Jones, P. V. B., Reference Readings in High School, 200; Italy and the Great War, 319-325.

Knowlton, D. C., Power of Ideals in History, 17; Epoch-Making War in History, 261.
La Libre Belgique, the Belgian War Newspaper, 101-112.
Larson, L. M., Changing Fortunes of the Great War, 375-377; Further Evidence in Case Against Germany, 420-423; Nationalism in the Coming Peace Conference, 475-477.
Latin-American History in Secondary Schools, by M. W. Williams, 335.
League of Nations, 516-519.
Leland, W. G., Documents Relating to France and Certain War Issues, 327-333.
Letter to Men in Service, 510.
Lincoln, President, and War Critics, 245.
Lingelbach, W. E., European Geography and the War, 218; Russian Revolution and the War, 304-312.

MacCracken, J. H., Pooling of College Interests as a War Measure, 70-73.
McLaughlin, A. C., Impressions of Britain in War Time, 473-475.
Magna Charta, misconceptions of, 9.

Magruder, F. A., American Government and Problems of Democracy, 97.
Making History by Popular Education, 368-370.
Maps, Medieval and Modern European History Wall, by W. and A. K. Johnston, 380.
Maps, Outline, of the War, 221-231.
Mead, G. H., Repulsiveness of German State, 417-419.
Memorial Day, Celebrating, by E. Barker, 134-137.
Methods of Teaching History, Bibliography of, 19.
Methods of Teaching History. Use of Pictures, 21; Producing Class in Hispanic-American History, 84; Use and Abuse of Current Events, 144; Reference Readings in High School, 200; Reference Readings in Recent American History, 202; History Notebook of the War, 204; Use of History Notebook, 205; Syllabus of Preliminaries of the War, 277; New Type of History Examination, 337; Outline Method, 381; Observation Work and Practice Teaching, 383; Teaching the History of Political Parties, 385; Songs and History Teaching, 388; Progressive Requirements in American History, 442; Another Editorial Man of Straw, 483; Program of Civics Teaching, 492; Suggestions for Rural Schools, 500; Study in Citizenship, 503. See also Collateral Reading; Secondary Schools; etc.
Michigan History Teachers, 206, 267.
Middle States Association, 342, 509.
Minnesota, Effects of Civil War with reference to, by L. B. Shippee, 477.
Monroe Doctrine and the War, by C. Becker, 87.

National Board for Historical Service, 345.
Nationalism in Coming Peace Conference, by L. M. Larson, 475-477.
Nebraska History Teachers' Association, Report on Course of Study in History, 26.
New Birth of Islam, by A. T. Olmstead, 480-482.
New England Association, 341, 509.
New Title of Historical Outlook, 378.
Note Book, History, by C. M. Whitlow, 205; Notebook of the War, 204.

Observation Work and Practice Teaching, 383.
Ohio History Teachers, 509.
Olmstead, A. T., New Birth of Islam, 480-482.
Outline for Incidental Study of Latin-American History in Secondary Schools, by M. W. Williams, 335.
Outline Method in Teaching History, 381.
Osgood, E. L., Some Experiments in a New Type of History Examination, 337.
Osgood, E. W., Development of Transportation in Connection with Problems of Western Expansion, 490-492.

Pacific Coast Branch of American Historical Association, Session of, at Berkeley, Cal., 94.
Paxson, F. L., Spirit of Present History, 318.
Pennsylvania History Teachers, 509.
Periodical Articles: On Teaching of History, 13, 83, 130, 192, 256, 268, 392.
Periodical Literature, ed. by G. B. Richards, 22, 83, 147, 214, 263, 270, 340, 389, 441, 482, 502, 507.
Pictures, Use of, in Study of the War, by E. A. Rice, 21.
Poetry, Use of Historical, by E. E. Stanard, 487, 490.
Political Parties, Teaching History of, 385.
Pooling of College Interests as a War Measure, by J. H. MacCracken, 70-73.
Power of Ideals in History, by D. C. Knowlton, 17.
Preliminaries of World Conflict, Syllabus of, Course of Study, by H. L. Hoskins, 277-293.
President Lincoln and His War Time Critics, by A. C. Cole, 245-249.
Prize Essay Awards by National Board, 208, 276.
Prizes, Historical, 24.
Producing Class in Hispanic-American History, by C. E. Chapman, 84-86.
Program of Civics Teaching for War Times and After, by J. L. Barnard, 492-500.
Progressive Requirements in American History for Junior and Senior High Schools, by R. M. Tryon, 442-449.
Propaganda Methods of League to Enforce Peace, 368-370.
Publications, Recent Historical, listed by C. A. Coulomb, 28, 99, 153, 215, 271, 348, 395, 454, 515.

Queries and Answers Relating to the War, 23.

Railroads of United States and the War, by T. W. Van Metre, 478-480.
Read, C., England at War, 313-317; Evolution of Democracy in England, 428-431.
Reading References for, Topical Outline of the War, 112-114.
Recent American History, Collateral Reading in, by P. T. Smith, 202.
Reference Readings in High School, by P. V. Jones, 200.
Repulsiveness of German State, by G. H. Mead, 417-419.
Restoration of English History to High School Curriculum, by H. L. Cannon, 312.
Rice, E. A., Use of Pictures in Study of the War, 21; History Note Book in Study of the War, 204.
Roman Empire and Great War, by W. L. Westermann, 86.
Roman History and the Great War, by W. D. Gray, 138.
Roman Republics, by W. S. Davis, 14.
Roman Trade Routes Along Pathway of Great War, by S. P. R. Chadwick, 193.
Ross, E. D., Some Problems in Teaching History of American Political Parties, 385.
Rural Schools, Suggestions for Teachers in, by J. F. Smith, 500-502.
Russian Revolution and the War, by W. E. Lingelbach, 304-312.

Schmitt, B. E., Annexationist Germany, 252-254.
Schlesinger, A. M., Historitis and How to Cure It, 128.
School Course in History, Report to American Historical Association, 74-83.
Schools and Government Policies in War Time, 268.
Schools and the War, 10-13, 23, 95, 148, 206, 342, 391, 450, 509.
Schuyler, R. L., Study of English History, 90.
Secondary School History, Suggestions for, arranged chronologically—see also Collateral Reading: Roman History, the Great War and, by W. D. Gray, 138; Roman Republic, by W. S. Davis, 14; Roman Empire and the Great War, by W. L. Westermann, 86; Food Administrators of Other Days, by J. F. Ferguson, 255; Roman Trade Routes Along Pathway of Great War, by S. P. R. Chadwick, 193; English History, Study of, by R. L. Schuyler, 90; English History, 1688-1815, by D. D. Wallace, 15; English History, 1815-1914, by W. J. Chase, 140; Irish Question and England, by E. R. Turner, 196; How Great Britain Entered the Great War, by A. E. R. Boak, 259; United States and World Politics, 1793-1815, by T. C. Smith, 20; Interaction of European and American Politics, 1823-1861, by E. V. Greene, 142; Civil War, American, from British Viewpoint, by E. D. Adams, 257; Civil War, Internal Problems During, by C. R. Fish, 199; Franco-Prussian War, How German Intrigue and Napoleonic Militarism Produced, by L. F. Brown, 195; Monroe Doctrine and the War, by C. Becker, 87; Turning Point in Far Eastern Diplomacy, by A. S. Hershey, 91; Latin-American History in, by M. W. Williams, 335; Use and Abuse of Current Events in History Classes, by A. I. Andrews, 144; Epoch-Making War in History, by D. C. Knowlton, 261; Power of Ideals in History, by D. C. Knowlton, 17.
Selected Critical Bibliography of Publications in English Relating to the World War, by G. M. Dutcher, 155-183.
Shippee, L. B., Social and Economic Effects of Civil War with Special Reference to Minnesota, 477.
Smith, E. B., Study in Citizenship, 503-507.
Smith, J. F., Suggestions for Teachers in Rural Schools, 500-502.
Smith, P. T., Collateral Reading in Recent American History, 202.
Smith, T. C., United States and World Politics, 1793-1815, 20; Duty of History Teacher in Forming Public Opinion During the War, 379.
Smuts, Gen. J. C., Speeches of, 146-147.

Some Experiments in a New Type of History Examination, by E. L. Osgood, 337.
Some Thoughts on Nationalism and Internationalism, 334.
Some War Curiosities and the Clandestine Press in Belgium, by C. Gauss, 101-112.
Songs and History Teaching, by C. M. Hallock, 388.
South African General's Speeches in War Times, 146-147.
Spanish-American History, 84.
Spirit of Present History, by F. L. Paxson, 318.
Stanard, E. E., Use of Historical Poetry, 487-490.
Statement of Ownership, etc., 456.
Stearns, W. N., Suggestions for a Text in Ancient History, 339.
Still Another Editorial Man of Straw, by L. I. Capen, 483.
Study in Citizenship, by E. B. Smith, 503-507.
Study of the War, History Notebook in, by E. A. Rice, 204.
Suggestions for a Text in Ancient History, by W. N. Stearns, 339.
Summer Schools, History in, 1918, 264, 346.
Swift, Lucius B., on America's Debt to England, 6-9.
Ten Commandments of Historian, 390.
Thompson, J. W., Deeper Roots of Pan-Germanism, 360-367.
Topical Outline of the Great War, by S. B. Harding, 30-62.
Trade Routes of Western Asia, by W. L. Westermann, 370-373.
Tryon, R. M., Progressive Requirements in American History for Junior and Senior High Schools, 442-449.
Turner, E. R., Irish Question and England, 196.
Turning Point in Far Eastern Diplomacy, by A. S. Hershey, 91.
Two Standards of National Morality, by T. C. Blegen, 457-466.

United States and World Politics, 1793-1815, by T. C. Smith, 20.
Use and Abuse of Current Events in History Classes, by A. I. Andrews, 144.
Use of Historical Poetry, by E. E. Stanard, 487-490.
Use of Pictures in Study of the War, by E. A. Rice, 21.

Van Metre, T. W., Railroads of United States and the War, 478-480.
Victoria Cross Heroes, by M. J. Herzberg, 484.
Vollweiler, A. T., Directions for Observation Work and Practice Teaching in History, 383.

Wallace, D. D., English History, 1688-1815, 15.
War and the Teaching of History, the Great, by Howard C. Hill, 10-13.
War Issues Course, 438, 486.
War Maps, Outline, 221-231.
War Museum, England's, 317.
War, The, and Secondary Education of Girls in France, 131-134.
War, The, and Schools, War and Teaching of History, 10-13; Notes Upon, 23, 95, 148, 206, 342, 391, 450, 509.
War, The, Its Practical Lessons to Democracy, by F. A. Cleveland, 239-244.
War, The Great, Geographical Aspects of, 217.
War, The Great, Queries and Answers on, 23.
War, Topical Outline of the Great, by S. B. Harding, 30-62.
Westermann, W. L., Roman Empire and the Great War, 86.
Westermann, W. L., Trade Routes of Western Asia, 370-373.
Whitlow, C. M., History Notebook, 205.
Williams, M. W., Outline for the Incidental Study of Latin-American History in Secondary Schools, 335.